AFTER THE CONVENTION

Delegation Goes to Raleigh to Appear Before Committee.

A delegation of citizens among whom were Hon. A. M. Scales, chairman of the democratic executive committee of Guilford county and Mayor Z. V. Taylor who was secretary of the committee in the last campaign, have gone to Raleigh this afternoon to appear before the state committee and urge the holding of the next state democratic convention in this city.

We hope they will succeed. Our new auditorium will not be completed by the time the convention comes off, but we can do as well as Raleigh has on a number of occasions--hold the convention in a warehouse.

McKissick a Director.

The stockholders of the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad Company met yesterday at Spartanburg. They re-elected the old board of directors, except that they put in one new man--E. P. McKissick, of the Battery Park Hotel. It is not known whether or not this is a tribute to Mr. McKissick because of his pending struggle with Senator Tillman--Greenville, S. C., News, 6th.

TALKING NOW OF VACATION

Congress Has Been in Session Just One Week.

THE FRIENDS OF JUDGE EWART

Still Hard at Work to Secure His Renomination for Judge of the Western N. C. District.

Special to THE TELEGRAM. Washington, Dec. 11--Although congress has been in session just one week, there is already talk as to when the Christmas vacation will begin. The general impression is that congress will adjourn for the holidays one week from the coming Thursday. The currency bill will be disposed of so far as the house of representatives is concerned, on the 18th, and will be reported to the senate on the day following. After that there will be nothing to keep congress in session. It is expected that the present week in the house will be a lively one, as the debate over the currency question will be conducted according to present indications with much party feeling. In fact party lines in the present house of representatives are much more closely drawn than in any congress of late years. Early this week, it is thought, Speaker Henderson will be ready to announce his committee, which will give an opportunity for the reference of the large number of bills introduced. The week in the senate will be a quiet one as the body can do practically nothing until the house gets down to active work. Early adjournment in the upper branch of congress will be the rule.

The debate on the currency bill in the house will serve to keep the representatives in their places, as a large number desire to go on record with speeches for the benefit of their constituents. In order to accommodate the large number of speakers, towards the end of the week night sessions in the house may be held for debate only.

In the senate several of the members are already preparing to leave Washington for the Christmas holidays. Senator Daniel leaves tomorrow for Lynchburg, and will not return until after New Year's, and many other senators will leave during the latter part of the week. From present indications it is doubtful if a quorum of the senate can be maintained very long after the close of the present week.

The friends of Judge Ewart are still hard at work to secure his renomination from President McKinley. The judge is still in the city, and called at the white house Saturday. A petition has been signed by nearly all of the members of the bar of Judge Ewart's judicial district asking for his confirmation, and it will be presented to Senator Marion Butler, asking him to withdraw his opposition. It is said here that a number of senators who have been lukewarm, or opposed to Judge Ewart's confirmation will vote if given the opportunity to confirm. This, however, cannot be verified. One senator, at least, Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, is as much opposed now to confirmation as he has been heretofore. It is conceded that Judge Ewart stands a much better chance this congress for confirmation than he did during the last session, but this is only because of the increased number of republicans in the senate.

A wedding of interest to the southern contingent in Washington, took place last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Irving Bowie, Prince George county, Maryland. The contracting parties were Miss Carmelite Gwynn, of Baltimore, Maryland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Andrew K. Gwynn, of Aiken, S. C., a brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Scrivener after a luncheon was served took the Southern for a short trip south. Upon their return they will go Baltimore, where they will reside. Both parties are well known in Washington.

Several prominent southern men were among the guests at the annual dinner of the famous Gridiron Club, which was given in this city Saturday night. Among the guests were several Charleston, South Carolina men, including Mayor J. Adger Smyth; A. C. Kaufmann, Major John Calvin Hempill, and Nicholas S. Hill, Jr. Other prominent southern gentlemen present were Representative John M. Allen, of Mississippi; W. A. Turk, of the Southern railway, and H. A. Fuller, of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway. Senator McGowan was also among the guests.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Dec. 11.

John Freeman, of Indiana, is in the city.

Mrs. Ida Beeson spent yesterday at her home here.

C. B. Burch, of Lynchburg, was here Saturday afternoon.

We regret to hear that Mr. William Tate has been indisposed for a day or so at home.

We are told that some of the back lots on Main street need attention badly from a sanitary standpoint. Clean them up and avoid sickness.

Messrs. Bertram & Willard left Saturday night for Rock Hill, S. C., where they will present "Capt Dick." These gentlemen will be pleasantly remembered by their friends here.

The water works question is gaining ground. A gentleman who voted against it at last election says that he will vote and work for it this time around now. Wake up fellow citizens.

The sermon by Rev. J. R. Scroggs at the M. E. church yesterday morning is highly spoken of by those present. Mr. Scroggs is an earnest talker and a good preacher, and yesterday he "spread" his self, so to speak.

In the recent play it was shown that High Point has as good local talent as can be found most anywhere. And now is the very time to organize something which would be a benefit and enjoyment to the town--a dramatic club. What say you?

Manley Seaborn, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bedford, died Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at his home on Main street. Death was caused by a derangement of the bowels. The deceased was a bright, friendly child and will be missed by all who knew him. The family have the sympathy of the community. The remains were interred in High Point cemetery this morning.

An electric chandelier with six lights and red, blue, and green globes adorns the show windows of Mr. W. P. Welch's jewelry store. An automatic switch is stationed overhead, and by pulling a cord all the lights go out except one, which continues to burn one-fourth of a minute, when it goes out and the next one is turned on which burns the same length of time, and so on around the circle of lights until the top one is reached, when the current goes on all of them. They burn one-fourth of a minute also. It takes just one and a half minutes to complete the circuit. Mr. Welch planned the whole arrangement, including the switch system.

OUTRANGED THE BOERS' GUNS

British Unmask the Enemy's Position.

STIFF WORK BUT IN FINE SHAPE

The Day's News of the Boer-British War in Short Form for the Busy Reader.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Molens, Dec. 11--Though deeply chastened by the Boers' storming of Gataca's army a dike tried but is prepared to give the Boers a warm reception if attacked. Every effort is being made to rush their advance camp. Before dawn on Saturday Gataca's army was rushed at breakneck speed. The British army hopes the enemy will attempt the attack, for the men are smarting under defeat and are eager for revenge.

CAN BEAT IT. Orange River, Dec. 11--A delay-detailed of the Boers' position has been made. The Boers have had some success in their advance, but are not yet in a position to attack. The British army hopes the enemy will attempt the attack, for the men are smarting under defeat and are eager for revenge.

THE BATTLE OF RETREAT. Molens, Dec. 11--(De-avd)--When the G and Royal Irish Rifles and the Northumberland and Lancashire were in the centre of a rifle fire pouring in from three directions. They were ordered to retreat and a battery of artillery covered their retreat.

The troops arrived here after thirty hours' work, including an engagement of three hours. The Boers at Stormburg are estimated at six thousand.

THE RETREAT ORDERLY.

London, Dec. 11--A Molens telegram received yesterday at noon estimates Gataca's forces at twenty-five hundred and says there was disorder during the retreat, owing to the men being so fatigued and being constantly shelled by the Boers.

BRITISH GUNS BEST.

Molens River, Dec. 11--Gen. Polocaren's Howitzer battery and naval gun drew the fire of twelve Boer guns, completely unmasking the enemy's position and sweeping their trenches. The British guns completely outranged the Boer guns.

LONDON IS ANXIOUS.

London, Dec. 11--Great anxiety is felt concerning Gataca's disaster. Apparently the British set an impossible task and were treacherously gulled, so after mauling under arms for sixteen hours they attacked the wrong part of the Boer position, where the hill was in-pregnable and where the Boers had six thousand troops instead of two thousand, as the spies reported.

A Courteous Inquiry.

A prominent San Josean reached the Third street depot of the Southern Pacific Company in an inebriated condition, and asked for a "first class ticket, please."

"Where do you want to go?" said the ticket clerk, somewhat pointedly. The man was a puzzle, while the inebriated one mugged and red, and then he blandly and politely asked: "What trains have you?"

Black Revenge

First Bootblack--You had a quarrel with Nidsey, Billy?

Second--Bootblack--Yes, I did, and I'm going to have my revenge, too.

First Bootblack--Goin' to fight him?

Second Bootblack--No, I'm goin' to stand aside of him when he's a-shinin' a gent, and when he's finished I'm goin' to say "Shine, shine"--Collier's Weekly.

"Highly's wife makes the poor fellow's life a hell, and he's a hard case as a husband to work so hard."

"Why doesn't he turn in and help her?"

"He does want to, but she won't let him"--Judge.

MONDAY, DEC. 11, 1899.

We have received a copy of the Philadelphia Record Almanac for 1900. It is a neat pamphlet of about 140 pages, full of useful information, closing with a valuable daily review of important events occurring from Dec. 1, 1898, to Dec. 1, 1899. This almanac is sent free to subscribers of the Philadelphia Record, which, by the way, is one of the best papers in the United States.

Mr. N. Eugene Pepper, who for the past year has done faithful and efficient work on the Telegram staff, today accepts a like position on the Winston Journal. That paper is to be congratulated on securing his services, and the Telegram sincerely wishes for him the success in journalism that his ability and fitness entitle him to. He will introduce himself to the Journal's readers with an ease and polish that would belittle any endorsement we might give him.

Elsewhere we copy an article that appeared in yesterday's Charlotte Observer from the pen of Dr. E. L. Stamey, of this city, relative to Dr. Lewis' report on the epidemic of fever at the Normal College. Dr. Stamey takes issue with Dr. Lewis. Both of these physicians are men of recognized ability and high character, and their public utterances in this matter, in which the whole state is deeply interested, are entitled to a hearing. Having previously published in full the lengthy report of Dr. Lewis, we today copy Dr. Stamey's letter with the sole intention of giving to the public every ray of light and every scintilla of information that it is possible to give.

We are perhaps a little tardy in noticing the conference edition of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, which was issued last week. It contained excellent likenesses of Bishop Hendrix, who is presiding over the North Carolina conference at Washington; also of the eight presiding elders of that conference, Revs. B. R. Hall, J. T. Gibbs, J. E. Underwood, W. H. Moore, R. F. Bumpass, R. A. Willis, W. S. Rone and F. A. Bishop. There is also a good picture of the conference host, Rev. Dr. L. L. Nash, pastor of the church at Washington. The paper also contains an interesting sketch of the history of the conference stretching over the time it was set off from the Virginia conference in 1837, the first session being held in Greensboro in January, 1838, down to the present time. We copy a short extract:

It is a long chain which stretches from 1840 to 1900, and the word "change" is engraved on every link. Of those who composed the conference of 1840 not a single one, as far as we know, is alive. Of the five who were admitted into the conference then—John Rich, W. W. Nesbit, Jeremiah Johnson, W. S. Chaffin and Nathan Hooker—not one on these earthly shores. Rev. Nathan Hooker was the last to embark. In this conference, in our memorial service, we will pay our tribute to his memory.

In 1840 there were in the North Carolina conference, taking in territory from other states, only 16,000 white members. Now there are in the state nearly or quite 130,000. Then Methodist preachers were very thin and irregularly scattered over the state. Now there is hardly a section, from Ocracoke to Otolay, which is not regularly visited by a Methodist preacher. From the coast to the crags the smoke is ever ascending from Methodist altars. Methodism arrived late in North Carolina—behind the other principal denominations—but, considering the time she has lived here, she has outstripped them all in numbers. Over 800 per cent. increase in sixty years!

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; also old, running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, fells, corns, warts, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, chapped hands, chilblains, best pile cure on earth. Drives out pain and aches. Only 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by C. E. Holton.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chili Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prize it.

THE NORMAL EPIDEMIC.

A Physician Takes Issue With Dr. Lewis in Regard to Outbreak.

To Editor of the Observer:

I have read with care and interest the report of the epidemic of fever at the State Normal and Industrial College by Dr. Lewis, secretary of the state board of health, and while I hesitate to criticize his opinions, I nevertheless think that there are some statements in that report that will not be subscribed to by the thinking people of the state, and especially the medical profession.

The State Normal and Industrial College is the property of the state and is, or should be, the pride of every North Carolinian who feels an interest in the young women of North Carolina. I claim that I have always been a friend of the institution and no one regrets more than I do the fearful calamity that has befallen the school. But while this is true, I feel that it will do the college no harm but much good to get at all the facts in the case, and let the people of the state know and feel that the subject has been discussed from every standpoint, and not by only a few individuals.

Dr. Lewis thinks there have been two distinct epidemics, the first malarial, the second typhoid. His basis for this conclusion on the description of cases given by the doctors, the microscopical examination of the blood of eight patients, and recovery under the influence of quinine in from four to ten days. I am ready to admit that these are diagnostic points of the greatest importance in malarial fever. But let it be remembered that the malarial parasite may, and does often, exist in the blood of a person that is clear of fever of every kind. It may also be found in patients that are undoubtedly suffering from typhoid fever. The doctor admits this fact himself, and calls it a "double infection." The malarial parasite when found proves beyond doubt the existence of malaria whether there are or not chills and fever, but its mere presence in the blood does not every time prove the absence of any other infection. Again, the quick recovery of these first cases does not establish exclusive malarial infection, for it cannot be doubted that we often have typhoid fever in a mild form and of short duration, especially during great epidemics, the fever falling to normal at the beginning of the second or end of the first week, and often accompanied by profuse sweats with some other malarial symptoms. Yet the experienced eye cannot fail to note the typhoid symptoms.

Furthermore, the doctor says there were sixty cases in one hundred that had malaria, and yet he cites only eight cases as a foundation for his observations and conclusions. The malarial parasite no doubt was found in these eight cases, and even if these and many others did recover under the influence of quinine, this is not proof that the typhoid germ was not having its share in the disease.

The doctor states that the diagnosis of typhoid fever was made about November 19th, when at least three weeks has passed since the outbreak of fever at the college, after two or three had died, others were at death's door who have since crossed into the beyond, and still many more were prostrate with this dread disease. In a day, as it were, malarial fever disappeared and was relegated to the past, and typhoid with all its blackness and horror loomed up in full view to blast and make sad the future of many happy homes. The transition seems but the work of a moment, a day at most, and all this notwithstanding the malarial parasite, the benign influence of quinine, and the quick recoveries.

Dr. Lewis states that there have been only forty cases of typhoid in one hundred sick. If this be true, then the mortality has been remarkably high for these modern days of progressive medicine. He speaks well of the surroundings and medical attention of these patients, and when he has time to consider these things in connection with the number of deaths that have occurred, and that are likely still to occur, we are persuaded that he will modify his statement and acknowledge that typhoid fever must have been there long before announced or discovered.

We all know that it would have been much better if the alarm had been given earlier. Then most of the young women might have gone home before they got sick where they could have had the care of friends, loved ones, and family physicians. But instead of this they were kept at the college until scores were too sick to go home. This I think was a great mistake and will be hard for the authorities to explain.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

The Poet Burns.

Not the least of the advantages attending life assurance is the serenity of mind which attends the provident man lying on a bed of sickness, or when he is in prospect of death—so unlike that painful anxiety for the future welfare of the family not provided for. The poet Burns, in writing to a friend a few days before his death, said that he was "still the victim of affliction. Alas! Clark, I begin to fear the worst. Burns' poor widow and a half a dozen of his dear little ones, helpless orphans; there, I am weak as a woman's tear. Enough of this, 'tis half of my disease!"

"If you would escape the rock upon which the lamented Burns split," take shelter from the storm that is bound to spend its fury upon you when the fatal summons comes, by at once securing the magnetic contract offered by the Provident Savings.

Catarrh is Not Incurable
But it can not be cured by sprays, washes and inhalants which reach only the surface. The disease is in the blood, and can only be reached through the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which can have any effect upon Catarrh; it cures the disease permanently and forever rids the system of every trace of the vile complaint.

Miss Joie Owen, of Montpelier, Ohio, writes: "I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh, and no one can know the suffering it produces better than I. The sprays and washes prescribed by the doctors relieved me only temporarily, and though I used them constantly for ten years, the disease had a firmer hold than ever. I tried a number of blood remedies, but their mineral ingredients settled in my bones and gave me rheumatism. I was in a lamentable condition, and after exhausting all treatment, was declared incurable. Being S. S. S. advertised as a cure for blood disease, I decided to try it. As soon as my system was under the effect of the medicine, I began to improve, and after taking it for two months I was cured completely. The dreadful disease was eradicated from my system, and I have had no return of it."

Many have been taking local treatment for years, and find themselves worse now than ever. A trial of will prove it to be the right remedy for Catarrh. It will cure the most obstinate case.

OBJECTED TO GATTIS.
An Incident in the North Carolina Conference.
The following report of the N. C. Conference proceedings was got from the Morning Post:
Washington, N. C., Dec. 9.—The third day's session of the North Carolina Conference opened this morning at 9:30 o'clock with Bishop Hendrix in the chair. Presiding Elder Underwood conducted the opening religious service.
After the reading of yesterday's journal by Secretary Cuninggim, the bishop announced as transfers Revs. J. G. McAllister, of the Holston, and J. W. Potter, of the North Georgia conference.
The committee on conference relations submitted a partial report, recommending Revs. R. W. Townsend for superintendency and M. C. Thomas, T. P. R. Hunt, Isaac Stewart and Jesse Page for the superannuated relation, and the report was adopted.
The call of Question 20 was resumed and the ministers on the Raleigh district made reports, beginning with Edenton Street. The reports of Revs. W. C. Norman and C. C. Glenn were among the best made this session, the former reporting a gain of seventy-nine.

An interesting letter was read from Rev. W. E. Edmundson, a member of the conference who holds a position as chaplain in the navy.
Durham district was called, and Rev. J. N. Cole reported Trinity church out of debt and over four thousand dollars raised in the past four years, while several hundred new members have been received. Rev. G. A. Oglesby also made an excellent report, as did nearly all the other preachers on the district.

The name of Rev. T. J. Gattis was called. Dr. Gibbs, his presiding elder, stated that after consultation with the bishop he had decided not to oppose the passing of his character. This was objected to by Revs. G. A. Oglesby and J. A. Parker, who thought Mr. Gattis should answer for bringing a suit in the courts against a brother minister. It took all the tact and skill the bi-hop had to steer safely around a reopening of the Clark-Kilgo affair, which would have precipitated an acrimonious debate. It was apparent to all that a large majority of the conference were friends of the president of Trinity College.

The health of Mr. Gattis failing, his name was referred to the committee for the superannuated relation. The names of J. O. Guthrie, B. B. Holder and G. A. Oglesby were referred for the same purpose.

The call of Question 20 was resumed and the preachers on the Elizabeth City and Wilmington districts made reports which showed accessions to the churches and gains in amounts contributed, which is somewhat remarkable when the devastating storms which injured crops along the coast are considered.

W. A. Jenkins, like another member of the conference who had imbibed extreme views on sanctification, withdrew from the ministry and membership of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Dr. Swidell offered a resolution urging Methodists not to give Mormon missionaries any aid or support, and expressing the opinion that Congressman Roberts, of Utah, should not be seated, and that the secretary of the conference be authorized to send a telegram thanking Congressman Taylor, of Ohio, for the fight he is making in the interest of the purity of American homes.

The bishop called Question 45, and immediately several members arose for recognition. Rev. A. P. Tyler, of Grace church, Wilmington, secured the floor and invited the conference to meet there next year. T. A. Green, Esq., of Newbern, and Rev. B. B. John made earnest pleas for Newbern. Several seconding speeches were made and Newbern received a large majority of votes.

Bishop Hendrix made a stirring speech on the Twentieth Century movement and raised in a short time upwards of $10.00.

Rev. N. M. Watson preached an excellent sermon this afternoon, and to-night the missionary anniversary was delivered by Bishop Hendrix and others.

PLAY TO A LARGE HOUSE
The Fadette Woman's Orchestra at Greensboro.
Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 23.
Mr. T. J. McAdoo, Greensboro, N. C.
Dear Sir:—The Fadette Woman's Orchestra was at the opera house last night, and ring their successful program to an audience of the best people of the city, which filled every available seat. I was obliged to place extra seats in the orchestra hall, in order to accommodate the demand for more seats for non-subscribers to the Lyceum course.

As for the concert, I can only say that it was the musical event, par excellence, of the season.
The Fadettes captured Chattanooga. From the leader, Mrs. Nichols, to the soloists, Miss Webb and White, and down to the "drums," each proved to be musicians of the highest culture. In their ensemble, they are the peer of any orchestra ever heard here, rendering both the classic and popular numbers, as though their instruments blended into a single perfect one.

Our local musical critics have nothing but words of praise for the Fadettes. They should prove the event of events for your city.

Very Respectfully,
Paul R. Albert,
Manager
